

PLEASE HELP CELEBRATE NEW YORK CITY'S EIGHTH
IMMIGRATION HERITAGE WEEK APRIL 15 - 22

THE OTHER SIDE OF IMMIGRATION

A FILM BY PROFESSOR ROY GERMANO

WITH A SPECIAL PERFORMANCE BY MEXICAN HIP HOP GROUP

“HISPANOS CAUSANDO PANIKO”

The Other Side of Immigration is a nationally acclaimed film about why Mexicans immigrate to the US, what happens to families left behind and how to approach the design of new immigration policies. For more information visit www.theothersideofimmigration.com

In addition, the Queens-based group Hispanos Causando Paniko (HCP), pioneers of Spanish-language Hip Hop in New York City and Los Angeles, will present their electrifying songs such as “De las Calles, Para Las Calles” about the struggles of Hispanic immigrants and their youths in New York. FRIDAY, APRIL 15, 2011
KEATING HALL 110, 12:45 PM

RVSP: mcastillogarsow@fordham.edu

The event will be followed by a reception where participants will be able to meet with Dr. Germano and HCP members and engage in discussions on how this and future Latino films and Hip Hop music productions may serve as instruments for education and social change.

Presented by the Department of Sociology and Anthropology and the Center for International Policy Studies' research unit on Migration, Gender and Development and with support from Fordham Deans' Council. Students, faculty, administrators and friends of Fordham are all welcomed.
